

Rachel Hazelip

Rachel was homeschooled from K-12th grade and raised in Nampa, Idaho, right here in District 10.

She holds undergraduate degrees in Criminal Justice, Political Science, International Studies, and History and a Master's degree in public policy: international affairs. She is currently working on a Ph.D. in Public Policy: Chinese Affairs and National Security. She studied Mandarin at university and has since become proficient.

She holds her Teaching English as a Foreign Language Certification and is an educator who has taught a variety of subjects in middle school, high school, and university classrooms in several countries overseas and in the state of Idaho. She currently works as an educational tutor and book editor.

Rachel was a state Legislative Candidate in the 2022 Primary Election and ran against her current opponent, who has since become the Speaker of the House.

For the past two years, Rachel has served as an Executive Officer in the Republican Party and served as Canyon County District 10 Co-Captain for the Presidential Caucus.

Additionally, Rachel earned a Fellowship at the nation's leading conservative Think Tank in Washington DC and worked there for five months in 2023. There, she worked on Chinese Foreign Policy, Marxism, and Identity Politics in a research, analysis, and advisory role.
